An update from Mr. Brad Willson

April 21, 2023

What a busy and successful year we are having in the Seaman School District! If you haven't had a chance to keep up with our news and highlights on social media, I would encourage you to check out the latest edition of our Seaman Communicator to see how our amazing teachers have been recognized for their work with your children; both statewide and nationally.

We've also made great progress on our strategic planning, which involved feedback and input from our entire Seaman community. This process began last July and I'm proud to finally share the results from this collaborative effort. Below are some links to help guide you through the foundational components of our strategic plan.

- Strategic Plan Foundational Video
- Mission. Guiding Principles. Focus Areas
- Graduate Profile

As you can see, these are the guiding documents that will provide the framework moving forward. Our next steps will be to engage staff in a collaborative and transparent process to define goals and develop the plans to achieve those goals while tracking our progress and holding ourselves accountable along the way.

One thing you won't find in any of our documents are timelines, because strategic planning is never done. Strategic planning is a continual cycle of pushing for excellence, which is why the foundation you have set in this initial process is crucial to our success by allowing us to adapt without losing sight of our future-ready primary purpose. I thank everyone for offering their time and insight into this work.

We are all a part of this process so please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions. I truly value the Seaman community's level of engagement and contribution to the success of our schools and that culture will remain a priority in our work.
